DOUBLE HANGING.

Ex-Chief of Police Jacks of Muskegon and John Druggan.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—George H. Jacks, formerly Chief of Police of Muskegon, Mich., and John Druggan, both convicted murderers, were hanged on the same scaffold in the County Jail this afternoon. Some time before the hanging Jacks sent the following letter to the jailer:

"Mr. Whitman—My Dear Sir: Please do not let any of the clergy in to see me. If I am innocent man, be hanged today, without the right to have the highest court in the land pass upon my case, which is all prepared, at great expense to myself and labor to my friends—if I am refused this right, which every man is entitled to, there certainly can be no God above us, and in that case, the clergy can do no good. So please do not allow any to see me.

(Signed) "GEORGE H. JACKS."

This request was complied with.

Adds a Large Crowd at the Merchants' Exchange—Elaborate Luncheon and a Drive Through the West End.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—President McKinley was today the guest of St. Louis, the city in which two years ago he received the nomination to his present high office. He came from Omaha by way of Galesburg, Ill., and was brought into the city at 9:15 a.m. by a special train carrying the local reception committee.

From the time of his arrival until 11 p.m., when the President left the city, he was accorded an almost continuous ovation. Escorted to the Southern Hotel by civic bodies and regular and volunteer troops, the President was met by the cheers of thousands of people, lining both sides of the thoroughfares through which he passed. At the Southern Hotel he stopped and reviewed the parade given in his honor, and later held a reception in the parlors. There he met many prominent St. Louisans.

At noon the Chief Executive addressed a large crowd on the floor of the Merchants' Exchange, and afterward sat down to an elaborate luncheon, at which seventy-five persons were present. A drive through the fashionable west end streets and parks of the city completed the daylight programme of entertainment.

(Associated Press Day Report.)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—The Presidential train came into St. Louis soon after 9 o'clock this morning. The President breakfasted just as the "fyer" was speeding across the Missouri River. He expressed delight at the continuance of the marvellously beautiful weather. At Spanish Lake, about fifteen miles from here, a reception committee of St. Louis citizens boarded the train to welcome the President. Mr. McKinley walked through the car where the members of the committee were seated, and gave to each one a warm personal greeting.

The President looked very tired, after the trying ordeal of the last four days. He said to Gen. Shafter at Galesburg, when the general inquired about his health: "Well, general, I am wearing myself out by this continued outdoor speaking, but I am standing it very well under the circumstances, I think."

At the Union Station, when the Presidential train backed in there was a terrific jam of the enthusiastic crowd, anxious to see the Chief Executive. The members of the General Reception Committee, who had preceded the Presidential train on a Burlington special, lined up, and when President McKinley stepped from his car he was immediately escorted by them to the Twelfth-street entrance of the Union Depot, and placed in a carriage. The Twelfth United States Infantry was drawn up on the north side of Market street, facing the station and extending along its entire length.

When the President's carriage was wheeled into Market street, the veterans of Santiago presented arms, and the immense throng that lined both sides of the thoroughfare broke into cheers. Hats and handkerchiefs were waved, and the President was kept busy responding to the noisy welcome. Carriages containing other members of the Presidential party, and the reception committee, fell in behind that of Mr. McKinley.

The parade moved east on Market street, passing over the principal streets of the city to the Southern Hotel, where President McKinley alighted, and followed by the members of his party, proceeded with the Reception Committee to a balcony overlooking Walnut street. From this vantage point he viewed the thousands of people who lined the streets and filled windows and housetops. Although the weather was chilly, the President's head was constantly bared during the review of the parade in response to the salutes of passing troops. He was much impressed with the appearance of the Twelfth United States Infantry and Battery E, First United States Artillery, two organizations that took active part in the campaign before Santiago.

After the review the President met the members of the various committees in the hotel parlors. This over, the doors were thrown open and the general public was given an opportunity to pass before the Chief Executive.

At noon the President spoke to 15,000 people in the hall of the Merchants' Exchange. Mayor Zeigheisen introduced the President, who said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: I thank you all most cordially for the warm welcome you have given me to your city. And I congratulate all upon the good feeling and the splendid spirit everywhere found throughout the length and breadth of our common country. Thank God, we are all together once more. [Great applause.] We have one flag and one destiny, and wherever that flag shall fly, we have one heart beating strong enough to meet every responsibility. We cannot enjoy glorious victories without bearing the burdens that may result from them.

"I congratulate you again upon the splendid outlook for the business future of our country. We were never so well as we are today. We have come from business depression to business activity; we have gone from labor hunting employment to employment hunting labor. And we have everything—a most blessed country. And resting upon all of us is the duty of carrying forward the great work of civilization that has been committed to us. We must gather the fruits of victory; we must follow duty step by step; we must follow the light if God gives us to see the light. And He has strangely guided us, not only at the very start of our great beginning, but down to the present hour, and I am sure it is the universal prayer of every American that He shall still guide us, and we follow. I thank you."

Five full minutes of applause followed the President's address.

From the Merchants' Exchange, the President returned to the Southern Hotel, where he had luncheon. This afternoon the Presidential party took a drive through the western section of the city. Among the places visited were the St. Louis High School and Mary Institute. Tonight there will be a general reception at the Coliseum in the Exposition building, where he will make an address.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—One of the largest crowds under cover that the President has come in contact with during his present trip gathered at the Coliseum tonight to hear his address. Probably 20,000 people were inside the building when the address was delivered, and twice as many were unable to get anywhere within the sound of his voice. After referring pleasantly to his previous visits to St. Louis, the President said:

"It must be a matter of great gratification to the people of the United States to know that the national credit was never better than now; that for the first time in its history the government is floating a 3-per-cent. bond, every dollar of which was sold at par and at a premium. Both government and the people, and that this profit has gone to the people. The loan was a popular one, and it has been a source of much satisfaction that the people with their surplus savings were able to buy the bonds. It is an interesting fact that, while we offered but $200,000,000 of the bonds for sale, over fourteen hundred millions were subscribed by the people of the country, and by the terms of the sale, no one was able to receive bonds for less than $5000.

"It is not without significance, too, that the government has not been required to borrow money to carry its current obligations, until the war with Spain, while its available balance October 1, 1898, was upward of $307,000,000, of which over $200,000,000 was in gold. Nothing more impressed the nations of the world than the appropriation of a large national defense fund which the treasury was able to pay from its balance without resort to a loan. While the credit and finances of the government have improved, the business conditions of the people have also improved. Both government and citizens have shared in the general prosperity. The money in circulation of the country was larger on the last of August than it has ever been, and there has been no depreciation of the value of our money.

"The people have borne the additional burden of the war with Spain, and with the same degree of patriotism that characterized the soldiers who enlisted to fight the country's battles. We have not only prospered in every particular sense, but we have established a sentiment of good feeling and a spirit of brotherhood such as the nation has not enjoyed since the earlier days of its history. Not since the beginning of the agitation of the question of slavery has there been such a common bond in name and purpose; such genuine affection; such a unity of the sections; such obliteration of party and geographical divisions. National pride has been again enthroned; national patriotism has been restored; the nation united closer and closer; and the love of the old flag enshrined in all our hearts. North and South have been brought back to a common cause, and today rejoice in a common victory.

"We must guard this restored union with zeal and with care, and while we are not ready to settle the war and meeting the problems which will follow, we must stand as one man, in the spirit of unity, and unite in a common effort for that which will give to the nation its widest influence in its sphere of activity and usefulness to which we are all pledged with it. Let us remember that God bestows upon no nation such a supreme opportunity which is not ready to respond to the call of supreme duty.

The address of the President was received by his 20,000 auditors with the widest cheers, and at its conclusion, the demonstration was simply indescribable. For a short time the President then viewed the sights of the St. Louis Exposition, after which he left for the train.

Nine Italian Anarchists Arrested in Alexandria, Egypt—Deadly Missiles to Have Been Shipped to Cairo for Use There.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

ALEXANDRIA (Egypt), Oct. 14.—[By African Cable.] The Alexandria police have arrested nine Italian anarchists since last night, and have thereby frustrated a plot against Emperor William, now on his way to the Holy Land, to be present at the consecration of the Church of the Savior at Jerusalem.

The first to be arrested is a café-keeper, a well-known anarchist, in whose house the police discovered two wire-wound bombs of great strength, full of bullets. This arrest was made in consequence of the notification from the Italian Consul-General at Cairo that two anarchists had left Cairo for Port Said.

The police investigation showed that the arrested café-keeper had bribed the steward of a steamship sailing to Syria to take on board a box of bombs. Apparently the anarchists originally intended to use the bombs at the Palais Abidin at Cairo, while Emperor William and the Khedive were there.

When the Kaiser decided not to visit Egypt the anarchists changed their plans and decided to attack him in Palestine. The liveliest satisfaction is felt over the smart captures, and the German consulate has expressed its warmest thanks. The two Cairo anarchists who left for Port Said have not yet been arrested.

SPUNKY COLOMBIA.

Suspension of Relations Between the Government and Italy.

(A. F. EARLY MORNING REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—On inquiry at the Colombian Legation with reference to the suspension of relations between Colombia and Italy, the charge d'affaires made the following statement:

"It is true that the Colombian government has passed a decree suspending relations with Italy. I have not seen the text of the decree, but I am advised officially that it guarantees to Italians the protection of the laws, and besides that the British Legation is charged with protecting Italian interests in Colombia. This act of the Colombian government is without doubt the result of popular indignation at the hostile measures adopted last summer by the Italian government with its fleet in Colombian waters, on the pretext of one failure on the part of Colombia in fulfilling the award of President Cleveland in the Cerutti case.

"The Colombian government offered to deposit with the United States $33,000 in gold (more than the whole amount of the money award which had already been paid) as a guarantee for the satisfaction of any just demands against her growing out of said award, but this offer was declined by Italy, and the Italian admiral with his demonstration of force, insisted that a demand of Italy, not based on the award, should be accepted. A weak country has to yield under such circumstances, but it is never compelled to run the risk of another experience of the same kind, and it is at liberty to suspend relations with the Italian government as a protest before the world against what has already happened, and a preparation for the future."

A ROYAL CORTEGE.

QUEEN LOUISE IN THE HISTORIC VAULT AT ROSKILDE.

Kings of Greece and Denmark, Crown Prince and Czar of Russia, Pallbearers—Royal Family Following the Hearse on Foot—Touching Tributes.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 14.—[By Atlantic Cable.] After the mourning service in the death chamber, the coffin containing the remains of Queen Louise of Denmark, who died September 23, was borne to the funeral car by the King of Denmark, the Czar of Russia and the King of Greece, the Crown Prince of Denmark and other members of the royal family.

The funeral cortege then proceeded to the railroad depot followed by the royal family on foot. The route was lined by dense crowds of bareheaded people. The train with the coffin on board started at 5 o'clock for Roskilde, nineteen miles from here the residence of Danish kings of the middle ages, where the remains will be placed in the vault.

Thousands of people waited the arrival of the funeral train at Roskilde where the same distinguished personages carried the coffin from the train to the hearse. Ladies in deep mourning strewn flowers ahead and throughout the route to the cathedral. Behind the hearse walked the King of Denmark and his three daughters. On arriving at the cathedral, the royal bearers lifted the coffin to its place on the catafalque.

COOL ROBBERS.

Carry on Correspondence With the Bank After Robbery.

(Associated Press Day Report.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—It has just leaked out that a week ago burglars broke into the office of the Consolidated Milling and Hardware Company, and after breaking open the safe, escaped with $5,000 worth of United States bonds of the recent issue.

President George Christian received a letter offering to return the if a reward was advertised in one of the local papers. This was done, and $25 was offered. Another letter followed, saying this was too small, and though the bonds were worthless to their present possessors, they were worth a good deal to Mr. Christian. He was warned against reporting the matter to the police, and directed to make a larger offer. The matter, however, has been placed in the hands of the local authorities.

Was Driven Upon the Rocks in a Gale and High Sea—The Coast Where She Struck the Scene of Many Wrecks.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

LONDON, Oct. 14.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Atlantic Transport Company's steamer Mohegan, formerly the Cleopatra of the Wilson and Furness-Leyland line, which left London for New York yesterday with fifty passengers and a crew of 150, is ashore off the Lizard, between the Manacles and the Lowlands. It is rumored there has been a great loss of life.

A constant-gauge message reports that the passengers "are drowning like rats."

Another account says: "Bodies are washing ashore, one being that of a lady, lashed to a plank, with both legs severed."

Particulars of the disaster are difficult to obtain. It appears that the Mohegan struck, a gale was blowing and the sea running high. Lifeboats put off from the Lizard and from Falmouth, one returning filled with passengers. Several were drowned, however, it is said, on the passage of the lifeboat to the shore. Another lifeboat saved six persons.

The coast at that point is extremely dangerous, and has been the scene of numerous wrecks. Some years ago there was a movement set on foot to get a lightship placed there, but it failed.

A dispatch from Falmouth says the Mohegan foundered and was probably blown ashore by the heavy east wind after her machinery was disabled. All the Falmouth tugs went out, but none were able to approach the vessel.

LATER:—A lifeboat has landed thirty of the Mohegan's passengers and returned for more. One lady died after she was brought ashore. It is reported that the position of the Mohegan is serious, and assistance is urgently needed.

3:30 a.m.—According to a dispatch just received from Falmouth, out of 200 persons constituting the passengers and crew of the Mohegan, only thirty-one have been saved.

THE STEAMER.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The steamer Mohegan (the Cleopatra) arrived at New York August 1 last, on her maiden trip from London. She is a single-screw steel vessel of 4510 tons register, 450 feet long by 32 feet beam, and about thirty-six feet in depth of hold. She has (or had) accommodations for 125 passengers and a capacity for between seven and eight thousand tons of freight and 700 cattle. Her commander is Capt. Griffiths, commodore of the Atlantic transport fleet.

She is one of the five vessels recently purchased from the Wilson and Furness-Leyland line by the Atlantic Transport Company to replace the Mohegan, Mobile, Massachusetts, Michigan and Mississippi which were sold to the United States to be used as transports.

CAIRO, Oct. 14.—[By African Cable.] A steamer having on board an officer belonging to the French forces under the command of Maj. Marchand now at Fashoda on the Nile, has arrived at Khartoum. This officer is the bearer of the report sent for by the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Del Casse, by courtesy of the British government over the Anglo-Egyptian lines of communication. It is presumed the officer will proceed to Cairo in order to be able to use the official cipher of the French Consulate here for transmitting the report to Paris.

Harmors Keep Virden Excited and All to No Purpose—Millitia in Control—Inquest and Funerals.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

VIRIDEN (Ill.) Oct. 14.—A new quiver of excitement swept over town hourly throughout the afternoon, from 2 o'clock to nightfall, rumor followed rumor, and not even the best-informed had any idea as to what would develop during the night. Rumors that another trainload of negroes was on its way here kept the excitement to a high pitch, but the militia in complete possession of the stockade and closely guarding the railroad property.

The coroner's jury heard a large number of witnesses today, but did not conclude its work. The inquest will last until Monday or Tuesday. Warrants were sworn out today before the local magistrate by an officer of the miners' union, charging President Loucks, Manager Lukens and others with "conspiracy to murder," but on advice of the military officers in charge they were not issued.

THEY SLIPPED OUT.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 14.—While over two thousand miners headed by a brass band were lined up in the street near the Church of the Immaculate Conception, ready to follow to the cemetery the remains of a fellow miner, Edward Walsh, who was killed in the riot at Virden on Wednesday, the 106 imported negroes from Alabama were quietly smuggled out of the city and sent to St. Louis.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Testimony That Shooting Did Not Come from Guards.

VIRIDEN (Ill.) Oct. 14.—When the coroner's jury arrived at the stockade, they were accompanied by Hon. W. J. Fattauer, judge of the circuit, and W. J. Fattauer, judge of the circuit, and a representative of the legal department of the Chicago and Alton Road, who is here looking after the interests of the company.

Dr. Peterson of the detective agency, was the first witness called today. He recited in detail the incidents leading up to the shooting, and told the story of the fight at the north gate, where he was in charge of the company guards. He was sure that his men were not open battle, and furthermore, he asserted that he had cautioned them not to fire on numerous occasions during the battle.

The most important testimony was that of J. A. DeBarrow of East St. Louis, who was in charge of the special guards on one of the cars of the train that was fired on in Wednesday's battle. In his statement DeBarrow said that when the train entered the stockade, the negroes had reached a point south of the depot, the firing began from the exterior on either side of the track, and that he and his men were ordered to drop to the floor of the cars. He stated that the occupants of his car were colored men, women and children, and that when the shooting orders he could hear the women and children screaming and yelling that they had been shot. After the depot had been reached, the train became very fierce again from the outside and continued until the train reached the stockade. When the train came up alongside the stockade, he said, it was met by another volley of shots from the east side of the track, opposite to the stockade. After the firing ceased, he heard the order from the gate: "Come out! Pile out, quick!"

He thought the order came from Preston, captain of the guards. DeBarrow says some of the negroes ran straight into the enclosure without stopping. He claimed that the guards on the train had not fired a single shot during the whole engagement.

WARRANT FOR MANAGERS.

VIRIDEN (Ill.) Oct. 14.—As a result of a meeting held by a number of union miners, during which the terrible fight of Wednesday was discussed, a warrant has been sworn out by Virgil Bishop, president of the Chicago-Virden Coal Company with murder.

Bishop is one of the leaders among the union miners. The warrant was sworn out by him before Police Magistrate Roberts of Virden. The complainant charges that on Wednesday, October 10, as accessories before and after the fact, and as principals, did, among themselves, and with other persons so named, as H. Griggs, O. J. Snyder, James Sikes, Frank Wilder, Thomas McEntee, J. W. Moman, P. J. Hanan, E. H. Smith and others, whose names are at present unknown, conspire to murder and kill, and, as a result of said conspiracy, did, on October 12, 1898, kill and murder Frank Bliven, W. S. Herman, Daniel Brenner, Edward Greene, Joseph Kuttler, Ellis Smith and Edward Walsh, against the peace of the people of the State of Illinois.

Magistrate Roberts put the warrant in his pocket for safe keeping, and now carries it around with him. The first it was decided to serve the warrant, but, after deliberation, it was thought best, in order to avoid complications, to hold it until after the inquest had been completed. This decision was strengthened when Magistrate Roberts, who is foreman of the coroner's jury, began today's session of the inquest within the stockade.

Col. Young, commanding the militia, stated to the Associated Press that on his suggestion the warrants will not be served for the present. In the meantime no one will be allowed to leave the stockade. The colonel considers the men under his charge for safe keeping.

NEGROES DESTITUTE.

They Brought Their Families and Now Have no Work.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—Charles Griffin, Wash Latimore and Charles Holden, negroes, whom the mine operators attempted to smuggle into the Chicago-Virden Coal Company's stockade at Virden Thursday night, are in Venice, Ill. today. They are still in the coaches that carried the 200 negroes from Birmingham to Virden last Wednesday, precipitating the battle. There is scarcely a whole pane of glass in either of the cars, and the woodwork on the sides and ends is perforated by bullets.

Charles Griffin, who is an aged negro from Birmingham, said that a band of negroes left Birmingham last Wednesday. Men representing the coal-mine operators here offered them good wages. No money was spoken of, but a hundred and five negroes accepted positions. Many were married, and took their wives and children along. There were about one hundred women and children in the rear coach when the miners fired on it at Virden on Wednesday. The colored people were frightened almost to death, but only one negro was wounded, and he out slightly. After the battle they were taken to Springfield. Most of the negroes left the train, Griffin, Holden and Latimore remained. They were taken to Virden, a place they were more than anxious to keep away from. Now they are ten days later, and the mine-owners, H. C. Brice, conductor of the train, told a reporter that when his train stopped at the stockade gate last night the mine-owners, he moved his train on to East St. Louis.

TALKING TANNER.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 14.—In an interview with a representative of the Associated Press this afternoon, Gov. Tanner said:

"On learning this afternoon that the National Guard were searching trains, I at once gave orders to Gen. Reece, the Adjutant-General, to instruct Col. Young that the National Guard was not to search trains, and that hereafter they would not board trains; that their orders were to prevent the landing of negroes, and that if they did not necessarily result in the precipitation of a riot; that they were there to keep the peace and to prevent any persons from leaving the stockade."

SHIPPED THEM OUT.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 14.—The imported negro miners in this city were quietly escorted by Co. F. S. of V., and Cavalry Troop B, to Central Station this morning while the union miners waited for the train to leave. When the train left, the negroes were sent out on the Bluff Line special to St. Louis. Later Co. F and Troop B were sent to Virden.

SEIZED THE DEPOT.

VIRIDEN (Ill.) Oct. 14.—This afternoon a rumor became general that the negroes were to be brought back at any moment. Capt. Craig's men immediately surrounded the railroad station, and the vicinity was cleared of citizens. News of the seizure of the depot, however, was not confirmed.

Alton Road Officials to Seek Legal Redress.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Complications which threaten to assume greater proportions than the clash between Federal and State authority during the railway strike under Alton's administration, are being aggravated by the seizure of the Alton road at Virden. General Solicitor Brown of the Chicago and Alton left for Springfield today as the result of a conference with the officials of the road. Brown is concerned. Steps will be taken to prevent the Alton road from interfering with the strike. Brown is concerned. Steps will be taken to prevent the Alton road from interfering with the strike.

READY FOR THEM.

Capt. Harris With Armed Volunteers Await Imported Negroes.

PANA (Ill.) Oct. 14.—A telegram was received today from Virden saying that in all probability Operator Lukens, of the Chicago-Virden Coal Company, would attempt to land at Pana the imported negroes, who, after a bloody riot were shut out at Virden. A conference was immediately held by telephone between Capt. Harris, commanding the militia, here, and Capt. Gen. Reece and Gov. Tanner at Springfield. The conference resulted in the Governor ordering Capt. Harris to immediately put a guard at the approaches to each railroad into Pana, and under no circumstances to permit any imported negroes to land at Pana. Capt. Harris immediately telegraphed to Virden, and was ordered to call on citizens to assist him if necessary.

HUNCHBACK HANGED.

HORRIBLE DEATH OF MURDERER JOHN MILLER.

Coolly Goes to the Scaffold Where the Rope Cuts His Neck and Blood Spurts Freely.

HE IS NEARLY DECAPITATED.

LOVE FOR MRS RYAN LED TO KILLING OF JAMES CHILDS.

Commodore Kauts Arrives—Mystery of Mrs. Barry's Death—Masonic Donation to Decoto Home. Good Templars Election.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Murderer John Miller the hunchback, was hanged here at 10:30 o'clock today. He was cool to the end. After the drop the blood spurted in great quantities from his neck. He was nearly decapitated. The crime for which Miller was hanged was the killing of James Childs in San Francisco in November, 1896. Being in love with Mrs. Nellie Ryan, Miller called to see her, after she had informed him that she did not care for his company. This angered Miller and he threatened to kill her. On the day of the murder he renewed his threats, and she fled down Clementina street, followed by Miller, who had a pistol in his hand. Mrs. Ryan's calls for help attracted James Childs, who came to her rescue, but was shot dead by Miller. After a trial in the Superior Court and an appeal to the Supreme Court, Miller was sentenced to be hanged.

He was a native of Germany, aged 42 years. Ten years of his life were spent in California. He had learned his occupation of carpenter and cabinet-maker. He was a hunchback and unprepossessing in appearance.

MAN WITH A PAST.

Charles A. Williams Adds a Chapter and Leaves Town.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THIS TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles A. Williams has shaken the dust of San Francisco from his patent leather. He departed at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, exactly twenty-four hours later than he originally planned. Instead of going as a benedict, with a bride, amid showers of rice and flying slippers, he left alone, with only a male friend or two to see him off.

Williams' friends here—He still has some—say that he will never return to San Francisco. He is a man of many faces. Before Miss Goad until he has a clean bill of health to show. Just how he is going to get this germ-proof document no one seems to know, but Williams is said to have plans of his own. At any rate he could do nothing here, and so he has gone where people know him better. His friends here say that he is too honorable a man to seek to alter Miss Goad's decision until he can ask her to change her mind with a clear conscience.

There is a rumor on the street that Williams' departure had been hastened by threats of violence made by the friends of Miss Goad, but this is authoritatively denied. There has been some war talk, of course, some chatter about tar and feathers, but this is not the resort of gentlemen. A far more effective weapon is social ostracism, and this has already been resorted to in the fullest measure.

Williams' few remaining friends gathered at the Crocker building to tell him good-by, and to regret that his memories of San Francisco would be so unhappy. Then the man with a past slipped across the bay, disappeared within his drawing-room, and locking the door, remained in seclusion until the train had left town.

There was a wild rumor today that Miss Goad was packing her trunks and intended either to elope with Williams or to follow him East, but this was absolutely without foundation. Miss Goad was quietly at home and expected to remain there. A far more interesting companion, she has broken his friendship with Williams. Williams is not yet convinced that Williams is other than what he seemed. He says that he shall remain his friend until some more convincing evidence is forthcoming.

PERIODS OF PAIN.

Menstruation, the balance wheel of woman's life, is also the bane of existence to many because it means a time of great suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical pain, it does not seem to have been nature's plan that women otherwise healthy should suffer so severely.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science.

It relieves the condition that produces so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors. Here is proof:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—How can I thank you enough for what you have done for me? When I wrote to you I was suffering untold pain at time of menstruation; was nervous, had headache all the time, no appetite, tired feeling, and did not care for anything. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of Blood Purifier, two boxes of Liver Pills, and to-day I am a well person. I would like to have those who suffer know that I am one of the many who have been cured of female complaints by your wonderful medicine and advice.

—MISS JENNIE R. MILES, Leon, Wis.

If you are suffering in this way, write to Miss Miles did to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for the advice which she offers free of charge to all women.

Autopsy Shows It Due to Hemorrhage of Lungs.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The police are still investigating the death of Mrs. Richard Barry, who was found dead in an Anthony street lodging-house yesterday. They have discovered no trace of young Donovan, who passed as the woman's nephew, though it is said he bore no relation to her whatever. An autopsy revealed that the cause of death was hemorrhage of the lungs, induced by strong drink.

ALLEGED FAMILY HISTORY.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—It was wired from Sacramento last night that Alexander Donovan, who left that city with Mrs. Barry, is her nephew. The parents of her brother, companion are dead, and he was residing with his uncle when Mrs. Barry arrived there. He was a steady young man, his uncle states, and it was to seek employment that he left for San Francisco. Donovan has not yet been found. Mrs. Barry was well known at Winemucca, Nev., her husband being foreman of one of the Jordan Valley Company's sheep ranches.

DAIRY ASSOCIATION.

Discusses Growth of Oriental and Other Trade.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The annual convention of the California State Dairy Association met today at the Chamber of Commerce, First Vice-President A. P. Martin, of Petaluma, University of California, spoke of the opportunities for dairy exports. He pointed to the constant growth in that trade with China, Japan and Hawaii.

"L. C. Chisholm of Tokyo, Japan, gave a Japanese view of California dairymen and its relation to Oriental markets." He spoke of the enormous growth of the Japanese demand for dairy products, and read G. H. Sessions of Los Angeles, M. D. Eshleman of Fresno, R. G. Sneath, G. E. Peoples and others.

SANTA CRUZ WATER BONDS.

Holland Trust Company Brings Suit to Foreclosure.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—In the United States Circuit Court this afternoon the Holland Trust Company of New York brought suit against the City Water Company of Santa Cruz and the city of Santa Cruz to foreclose a mortgage on all the property of the first-named defendant and for an injunction restraining both defendants from handling said property.

The amount involved is $100,000, with interest. This suit grows out of a recent decision of the Circuit Court declaring the city of Santa Cruz liable for $100,000 water bonds. The city tried to repudiate the bonds.

HIGH LICENSE.

That and a Representative in Congress Advised for Alaska.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Thomas S. Nowell, a prominent citizen of Boston, who has just returned from Alaska, where he has spent four months annually for the last thirteen years, says that the district should have a representative in Congress, and should have the protection of adequate land laws.

He also thinks that the prohibitory liquor law originally enforced to protect the Indians, but now possible of evasion with a great population of white men and thousands of miles of unguarded seacoast, should be replaced by high license, producing a revenue sufficient to pay many of the expenses of the Territory.

LATE NEWS FROM DAWSON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] VANCOUVER (B. C.), Oct. 14.—H. Hold of Chicago, who is just down from Cassiar, says a gold strike has been made on Findlay River. Three men took out $85 each from a river bar in one week.

M. H. Sinclair of Los Angeles, who has just arrived from Dawson, says the future of Dawson will depend largely upon the opening of quartz mines. There have been upwards of 400 quartz claims recorded at Dawson, and some claims in the vicinity of the city are attracting considerable attention, not on account of the high grade, but of the immense deposits of gold-bearing ore.

C. C. Black, who has just returned from Peace River, states that several prospectors up there stole provisions cached by a tribe of Indians, which had always been friendly to the whites. The men were arrested and taken to the Indian reservation, where they were half starved themselves, they fled from the country and returned to Omineca. Had they not left the district the Indians would have been carried still further.

Steamers for Oriental Trade.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—It is stated on good authority that the Northern Pacific Steamship Company is arranging to put under the American flag six British steamers which it is operating to China and Japan from this city. These steamers include the transport Arizona, which was sold to the government last July; the Tacoma, Olympia, Columbia and Argyle. It is believed that the Arizona will be transferred back to the Northern Pacific Company at Hongkong, when the government no longer needs her.

A Hazardous Trip.

VICTORIA (B. C.), Oct. 14.—The schooner Viva has rescued from almost certain death Harry Thompson, Frank Johnston and John Christensen, who were attempting to sail from St. Michael to San Francisco in a boat only twenty-eight feet long. They had come from Lake Bennett down the Yukon, had safely crossed Bering Sea to Unalak, and were on their way South when a severe gale sprang up and their frail craft would doubtless have foundered had it not been seen and saved by the Viva on September 2.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 14.—This afternoon Charles Albrecht, accused of bigamy, pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to three years in Folsom and to pay a fine of $1000.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 14.—[Reported by George E. Franklin, Local Forecast Office.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.91; at 5 p.m., 29.85. Thermometer for corresponding hours showed 52 deg. and 62 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 97 per cent.; 5 p.m., 79 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southwest, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., west; velocity 8 miles. Character of weather, clear. Maximum temperature, 78 deg.; minimum temperature, 50 deg. Rainfall for season, .02 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

DRY BULB TEMPERATURE.
Los Angeles 52 San Francisco 54
San Diego 56 Portland 54

Weather Conditions.—The barometer is highest in the Missouri Valley and lowest in the British possessions north of Montana. An area of low pressure is in Southern California and southwestern Arizona. The barometer has fallen rapidly throughout the west of the Missouri River to the Pacific Coast, except a slight rise in northern Texas. The temperature has shown a marked rise in all sections, excepting a slight fall in the Sacramento Valley, the Pacific coast south of San Francisco, extending to San Diego. Light rains have fallen in Washington, Oregon and Northern California.

Forecast.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair tonight and Saturday. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—For Southern California: Partly cloudy, somewhat threatening in north portion Saturday; fresh west winds; cooler.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The return of the Seventh Regiment and the departure of Battery D for Manila come within two days of being a "singular coincidence."

Hereafter we shall miss those announcements that the Seventh Regiment is coming home "next week," which have been received with such regularity for several weeks past.

It must be highly gratifying to the people who do business on South Broadway to know that the ripping up of that street must come to an end some time.

It is a hopeful indication of the mining industry in Southern California when the Rothschilds send representatives to this section to investigate mining propositions and especially so when their representatives express themselves as pleased with the prospect.

The Anaheim Gazette and the Plain Dealer of the same place, having filled their inkstands with chile sauce, sulphuric acid and other fiery ingredients, are squinting the stuff at each other in a manner which threatens to make it necessary for the bystanders to call the police.

Los Angeles is not the only city in Southern California to be made happy by the return of the volunteers of the Seventh Regiment. Royal welcomes will be given them in Pasadena, Pomona, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, San Diego and other towns which have waited long and anxiously for the home-coming of their boys.

Some of the Arizona Rough Riders are receiving unexpected benefits incidental to their service in the army. A. P. Wright of Yuma, who carried the regiment's colors all through the campaign and was the first man in the army to hold the flag in Cuba, formed the acquaintance of a wealthy New Yorker while in the army, and as a result has secured a lucrative position with a New York syndicate which will conduct a business enterprise in Cuba.

A tramp who had stolen a set of harness at Patton, San Bernardino county, bled to death from a bullet wound inflicted by a member of a constable's posse when he refused to come on being ordered to do so. Death is a severe penalty for larceny, but no one ought to blame the man who fired the shot. The tramp had once before escaped the officers and he was given warning when called upon to stop. He chose to take the chance of dodging the bullet and lost. It was the penalty of defiance to officers of the law added to defiance of the law itself.

Mirabelle Waives a Jury.

Charles Mirabelle, the festive plumber who is alleged to have made love to Maria Vorhoeven by caressing her with cobblestones, changed his mind yesterday about having a jury trial on the charge of battery. Theodore Bauer, the ex-king of "Little Paree," and another friend have interested themselves in Mirabelle's case, and called on Justice Owens yesterday to see if he could not have a more speedy trial than a week hence. When it was explained to them that it required time to have a trial by jury, they advised Mirabelle to waive the jury, which he did, and the case was then set down for 2:30 o'clock today. Mirabelle denies that he struck the Vorhoeven woman with stones. He alleges that his arrest is all a mistake, and that the man who had the difficulty with the woman got away.

An Obnoxious Rooster.

An irate citizen called at the Police Station early yesterday morning to ask the police to suppress a nuisance in the form of a crowing cock. He declared that the rooster disturbed his slumbers every morning, and he could stand it no longer. Owner of the fowl refused to gag him or chop off his head and the sleepless citizen thought it was time for the police to take a hand in the matter. The officers were all too busy receiving the returning soldier boys to pay heed to the citizen's complaint. He left the station muttering that he did not see why Chief Glass could not delegate one of the colored members of the force to remove the obnoxious bird. He wanted to know what colored policemen were good for, if not to suppress crowing fowls.

Justice Courts Closed.

There was no session of the Police Court yesterday, because there were no cases to be heard, the police not having made a single arrest in twenty-four hours. A few continued cases were reset by Justice Owens, so as to afford him an opportunity to help to welcome the Seventh Regiment home. Justice Morrison has not tried a case for several days. The week has been an exceedingly dull one in police circles. The city justice courts have had little to do beyond the hearing of a few police cases. There would appear to be plenty of time now to hear the Massey-Behlesheimer shoplifting cases, which have been hanging fire for nearly a year, but they have as yet no place on the calendar.

MOFFATT CAME BACK.

RETURNED KLONDIKER RELATES HIS EXPERIENCES.

He Got a Plenty of Hard Work, Chills, Gnats, Mosquitoes and Moose Meat, but No Gold—Storied Voyage Home.

Charles R. Moffatt, ex-captain of detectives of the Los Angeles police department, returned from the Klondike Thursday evening, and was shaking hands with his late fellow-officers at the Police Station yesterday.

Mr. Moffatt started for the Klondike last February in company with Police Officer Frank L. Benedict, ex-captain of police Loomis and Mark Warner of Boyle Heights. No better-equipped party ever went over the Chilkoot Pass. They reached their destination without a single accident to themselves or their baggage.

They prospected some on the east shore of Lake Lebarge, did some work above the mouth of the Pelley River, and put in the greater part of the summer prospecting on a tributary of the Steveston River, which they named Los Angeles Creek, and hoped to make famous by a big output of gold, but their expectations failed to pan out, and Los Angeles Creek will probably never add luster to the name of this city. Mr. Moffatt says they washed out just enough gold to make the prospect seem worth working through the summer, but when he left they had absolutely nothing valuable in sight.

Moffatt left his companions in August on account of having an attack of malaria, which he feared might develop into typhoid fever. He left Dawson City August 28, and came out by way of St. Michaels, the trip by water from Dawson to Seattle occupying forty days, during all of which time he never set foot ashore. The journey down the river was without incident, except that the river boat frequently got stranded on the numerous sand-bars that obstruct navigation. At St. Michaels the water was so rough in the harbor that no landing could be made, and no small craft short of a life-boat could withstand the force of the waves.

After leaving Unalakleet Harbor on the way down from St. Michaels, the little British steamer Brixham, on which Moffatt had taken passage, encountered a cyclone which threatened to send her to the bottom. Moffatt says in all his days he never saw such another storm. The noise made by the wind resembled the sound of a train of cars crossing a railway trestle, and for hours the eighty passengers on the little steamer expected momentarily to be sent to Davy Jones's locker. Passengers and crew kept cool, however, and the staunch little craft finally outwheeled the storm.

The remainder of Mr. Moffatt's party are going into winter quarters on the bank of the Yukon, opposite Dawson City. They are well provided with all the necessities of life, and expect to resume prospecting next spring.

George Gray, Ed. Crew and Frank Manuel, former employees of the Los Angeles Transfer Company, were also prospecting on Los Angeles Creek during the summer, and will winter opposite Dawson. Mrs. Crane, the Los Angeles woman, who went to the Klondike as a newspaper correspondent, pitched her tent opposite Dawson also, and expects to spend the winter there. Mr. Moffatt pronounces it a healthy camp.

The Moffatt party traveled down the Yukon from the lakes to Dawson in company with ex-Sheriff Ed. Gibson and party, from Los Angeles. Gibson and his partners bought a small bench claim for $4000, out of which they took about $15,000 in gold. They are about the only Los Angeles men who have made more than their expenses since the original rich strikes on Bonanza Creek and adjacent gulches were made. Most of those who have gone to Alaska or the British Northwest Territory have been living off their packs and have no prospects ahead. Mr. Moffatt says not more than about two hundred claims out of the many thousands worked, have yielded rich returns. There have been practically no strikes of any consequence, excepting those in the immediate vicinity of Dawson, which started the Klondike craze.

"Are you going back?" was asked of Mr. Moffatt.

"Not unless I hear encouraging reports from my partners next spring," he said.

"How did the Klondike climate suit you?"

"The cold weather was all right. It is easy to stand 35 or 40 deg. below zero in June, but the summer heat is very oppressive. Mosquitoes are numerous and exceedingly venomous. The worst torment of all are the small gnats, 'can't see 'ems' the Indians call them, which bore in your flesh and create ugly sores."

Mr. Moffatt exhibited his hands, which were full of blue marks that resulted from gnats' bites. He said insomnia was very prevalent among the miners during the summer on account of the long hours of sunshine. Many strong men were suffering for want of sleep.

When Mr. Moffatt resigned from the detective force his fellow-officers presented him a very fine Remington rifle, with which he expected to do some execution among the moose that abound in the wilds of Alaska and British America. Three of these noble animals were bagged by members of the Moffatt party, but he very modestly disclaims the honor of having brought any of them down himself, although he is a good shot with a rifle and has killed considerable big game in his time. Moffatt says his party lives on moose meat a good part of the time they were prospecting. He considers it better than beef and superior to most wild meats.

But despite his diet of moose meat, Moffatt has lost about forty pounds of flesh. He is thinner than he has been in years, but since getting the malaria out of his system, says he is feeling well.

"After the experience you have had, Mr. Moffatt, would you like to make the trip to the Klondike again?"

"To this question the returned Klondiker replied that he felt like the tourist at Montreal who nearly had the life scared out of him by going down a real Canadian toboggan slide. After arriving at the bottom safely and wiping the cold drops of sweat from his brow, the tourist bravely remarked: "I would not have missed that ride for $100."

"I'll give you another ride for 10 cents," chipped in a lively urchin who had a toboggan to rent.

"No, thank you, sonny. I would not slide down that goldinged hill again for $1000."

Plynn's Child Injured. The infant daughter of M. J. Flynn, proprietor of the Mondoville Gardens, was hurt yesterday about noon by the upsetting of a buggy in front of the People's Store. The child had been left alone in the buggy while the horse was hitched, and was amusing itself with a toy balloon. The horse, on getting a glimpse of the balloon, became frightened and whirled around. Deputy Constable Tom Quinn caught the reins before the animal could escape, and threw it to the pavement. The buggy was upset and the child was bruised and scratched about the face, but was not seriously injured.

THE RETURN OF THE SEVENTH.

The Seventh California, United States Volunteers, has stacked its arms, hung down its knapsacks, and melted away into the civilian world.

After six months of garrison duty on the wind-swept hills of San Francisco, the Southern California soldiers yesterday came back to their homes. Thirty days will elapse before the red tape and sealing-wax of mustering-out is finished, but as far as drill and guard duty, camp life and regimental discipline are concerned, the end has come.

As it passed along the streets of the city yesterday afternoon, the regiment stepped from soldiers' life straight into the pages of history. Last evening the furlough papers were issued, granting the men thirty days leave of absence. Immediately the soldiers scattered to their homes, and only Companies B and L of San Diego and Santa Ana, respectively, were left to roll themselves up in the blankets and sleep on the Armory floor, as one last taste of a soldier's ways before leaving the service of the American people. Thirty days hence the final physical examinations will be made, the last salaries will be paid, the mustering-out papers will be issued, and the story of the regiment will be a closed book.

WELCOMING THE SOLDIERS.
The home-coming of the Seventh yesterday was a glimpse of the war such as only once before has Los Angeles been afforded—when the Seventh started for San Francisco six months ago, unsuspecting that it was written in the book of fate that the regiment's journeyings should be only from the Presidio to Camp Merritt, and from Camp Merritt back to the Presidio.

"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."
That is what the band played as the first of the four regiments rolled up to the River Station, and the waiting crowd burst into a cheer, and the soldiers waved their dusty hats from the windows and yelled greetings to the friends who awaited them.

If the band was right in what it said about pleasures and palaces, then all station was the welcoming crowd. The fact that most of the people had been waiting since early in the morning did not abate their enthusiasm in the least. There were shouts and cheers and waving of flags, and the people nearly stared their eyes out for the sight of a familiar face.

A LONG WAIT.
The wait before the specials came was an interminable one. First the Red Cross ladies had to wait a month, a month made up of postponement after postponement, and when the great day finally came, the specials were delayed longer than had been expected. The first news was that they would come at 9:30; then it was 10:40, then it was 11:55, and when the first section finally did pull in, the clock said 12:25.

There was an immense amount of work to be done before the regiment arrived. Few people realize what an undertaking it is to feed 1100 men. All that was possible had been done beforehand. The flags and bunting, the palms and the pepper boughs, had been up for weeks, the tables and seats arranged, and the whole place swept and garrisoned, but the things to eat had to be prepared, the tables set and the attendants drilled for the hard work ahead. All except those who could show the Red Cross nurse's brassard, the badge of membership in the committee, or the ribbon of the Reception Committee, were rigorously excluded from the station, a necessary precaution, for there was not an inch of room to spare.

The immense crowd wandered around the station, and while waiting was entertained by the startling acrobatic feats of a crowd of urchins on a heap of tanbark. Many followed the example of one young girl in a fluffy gown of white, with blue ribbons, who gave a sigh of weariness and sat right down on the ground in the shade of a building.

The hold cavalrymen of Troop D and the Signal Corps dashed back and forth in frantic endeavors to restrain the crowd. They succeeded admirably until the crowd surged in, and despite all that the troopers and sixty policemen could do, they swamped the exterior of the station, and only with difficulty were barred from the interior.

THE SPREAD.
The luncheon was a great success. There was plenty for all, of the most toothsome kind, and the soldiers ate as if it were the first square meal vegetables. There were flowers in profusion everywhere. At each man's plate was a boutonniere and a little box of candy, appropriately inscribed. The boys carried away the flowers with them, fastening them to their hats, crowning the muzzles of their rifles with button-hole bouquets and thrusting bouquets in their cartridge belts.

The luncheon over, the companies were marched out into the open and an opportunity afforded the volunteers to greet their friends. Then the call was sounded for attention and the companies fell in for their march through the city, and the review in honor of Gen. C. F. A. East.

THE PARADE.
The sight of the long column of relatives, present and prospective, were there in force, tearfully happy, and fairly devouring their returned soldiers with affection. The volunteers were overjoyed with delight at being welcomed to the blessings of Southern California, and all went merry as the goose hangs high.

One by one the companies were called to order again and marched up into the Armory to deposit the property that belongs to Uncle Sam, returning very different in appearance from the armed and accoutred soldier.

About 5 o'clock the work began of issuing the furlough papers. As the documents were given to the companies the men were told to take possession of their own belongings, stored in their knapsacks, and then the soldiers were dismissed, scattering for close. While on guard duty yesterday a companion slammed a door; Bond's finger was caught and severed. He was taken to the home of Mrs. M. E. Hart, No. 413 Temple street, to stay for a few days. George M. Franklin, Co. E, Santa Paula, was sent to the home of Mrs. Warner, Hollywood, and Charles Phillips, Co. F, to the home of Mrs. Annie Thompson, No. 1315 Jefferson street.

H. O. Brooks, solicitor for the comfort of the soldier boys, distributed yesterday complimentary tickets for baths at the Hammam, one to each man in the regiment. As the establishment is not quite large enough to take care of 1200 men at once, Mr. Brooks suggests that the soldiers present the tickets a few at a time. The tickets are good at any time.

WANTED MORE CREAM.
But Berry Wasn't Any Better Than an Ordinary Private.

Yesterday when the boys of the Seventh were feeding on the fat of the land, coffee was served all around and each cup contained an equal amount of pure, fresh cream.

But Col. Berry wanted special privileges. If the boys from the ranks could feast to their satisfaction on all the delicacies which loving hearts and willing hands could provide, and could have real cream in their coffee, why could not he, the colonel, be glad, have an entire pitcher of cream for himself? The ladies, no doubt, would consider it a treat to bestow a little extra attention and the choicest delicacies on his mightiness. He'd show the balance of the officers and men that they were merely side issues.

solidly men, as the Seventh marched through the streets of the city, was an inspiring military spectacle. The sidewalks were crowded with people, the windows jammed, and there was continuous applause as every platoon swept by in faultless cadence and with soldierly bearing.

It was mainly evident, from the weight of the possessions with which the men were burdened, that the regiment was returning from camp life and not from active service in the field. Every man had sixty pounds of baggage strapped to his back, a roll of blankets and a knapsack stuffed to coriander proportions. The heavy marching equipment was not conducive to the most spectacular showing, but nevertheless the regiment presented a fine appearance.

The route was from the depot through Sonoratown to the Plaza, along North Main to Spring street, and south on Spring past the point of review at Seventh street, and thence to the Seventh Regiment Armory.

A squadron of police led the way. Gen. C. F. A. East and the brigade staff followed, with the Signal Corps, Troop D and Co's. A, C and F of the National Guard marching behind. Then came the regiment in command of Col. John R. Berry, with the colonel and his staff mounted and riding at the head, and the following-named companies marching after:

Co. A, Los Angeles; Co. B, San Diego; Co. C, Los Angeles; Co. D, Pomona; Co. E, Santa Paula; Co. F, Los Angeles; Co. G, Redlands; Co. H, Ventura; Co. I, Pasadena; Co. K, San Bernardino; Co. L, Santa Ana; Co. M, Riverside.

As Col. Berry had countermanded the order that the regiment should give an exhibition drill at Agricultural park, the soldiers marched from the reviewing stand directly to the Seventh Regiment Armory, there to be dismissed. As the companies were standing at ease at the street near the Armory, a remarkable demonstration was given of the popularity of certain of the officers.

Capt. Alfred Clark, the chaplain, came riding through the companies on horseback. Every man pulled off his hat, waved it wildly in the air, and cheered for the stalwart chaplain with frantic enthusiasm. Maj. J. J. Choate and Dr. Robley, military surgeons, received a similar demonstration of affection. Col. Berry rode past his men and there was not a murmur.

FAMILY REUNIONS.

When the companies stacked their arms and knapsacks in the street at the Armory, the whole neighborhood was transformed into a big reception room, with the returning volunteers as the guests of honor. Everyone who knew a soldier was there to welcome him home, and those who didn't, came too, and scraped acquaintance with the boys. Mothers, wives and other their furloughs, or in the case of the out-of-town companies, marched to the railroad depots, to take the trains for their home towns, where elaborate receptions awaited them.

In a few minutes the streets were alive with the skurrying churches, men, hastening in every direction. Soft-hearted spectators commiserated the Santa Ana and San Diego men on being obliged to spend the night sleeping on a bare floor, but the volunteers, more than satisfied with the luxury of having a roof over their heads, and a dry board floor underneath them, laughed at the thought of considering such accommodations a hardship and feasted on their preferred boards to feathers.

THE WORKERS.
The arduous task of preparing for the reception to the Seventh was performed by the Red Cross League, with the aid of a number of other organizations, among them the Chamber of Commerce, War Board, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Board of Trade, Daughters of the American Revolution, City Council, Ladies of the Maccabees, Woman's Relief Corps, Cathedral Aid Society, Orphans' Home managers and the various churches.

Mrs. D. G. Stephens was chairman and executed the work with remarkable skill and perseverance. She was aided by Mrs. Carrie S. Green, Mrs. M. Griffith, Mrs. J. S. Slauson, Mrs. Eleanor T. Patten, Mrs. Mary E. Hartwell, Mrs. F. E. Austin, Mrs. M. E. Anthony and a large number of others. Several score women assisted yesterday, as well as a large Reception Committee of men.

Extremely efficient work was done yesterday in caring for the sick under the direction of Mrs. Carrie S. Green, financial secretary of the Red Cross. Adjoining the River Station a hospital tent had been erected, floored with canvas, well ventilated and supplied with clean and comfortable beds for the sick. Here the sick were cared for with trained skill. Mrs. Mary E. Threlkeld, for three years during the civil war an army nurse, was in charge. Dr. Elizabeth A. Follanabee spent the entire day there, and aided by Dr. Anton and two trained nurses—Miss Ida Helfrich and Miss Adeline M. Lillie—and by Mrs. Threlkeld's corps of assistants, furnished all the medical attention required.

Several soldiers whose condition was alarming were taken off the train. Charles Bullard of Co. A, the brother of Dr. Bullard, was found to be in the incipient stages of typhoid fever. He was immediately taken home. Private McGowan of Santa Ana, also suffering with typhoid, was sent to his home on the afternoon train. Miss Helfrich, the trained nurse, accompanying him. Several sick soldiers were sent to private homes to be cared for until well. Among these were O. Bond, Co. E, Santa Paula, who came through his army experience without harm until his

So he dispatched a waiter to the source of supplies with orders to fetch a pitcher of cream for Col. Berry, but the waiter didn't get the cream. Instead of cream the waiter carried back to the colonel these words: "The colonel wants a pitcher of cream, does he? Well, he can't have it. Everyone is treated alike here, and you tell the colonel that if he isn't had consulted with his officers and is good enough for the men, he can go up town for his lunch."

BERRY'S FACILITATION.
Facts About the Way in Which the People Were Fooled.

A month ago when it became reasonably certain that the regiment would be returned to Los Angeles, Col. Berry suggested to brigade officers here that a public review be held upon the arrival of the troops. Capt. Baker, of the First Brigade staff discussed the matter with Col. Berry, and it was agreed, upon Capt. Baker's suggestion, that the review should be at Agricultural park where there is room for evolutions and for spectators.

Last Wednesday Capt. Baker communicated with Col. Berry by telephone, and Berry finally said that he had consulted with his officers and that the regiment would march through the city and give an exhibition drill at the park. Upon the strength of this assurance, Capt. Baker and the Agricultural Fair officials made public announcement of the programme, stating that half the day's gate receipts would be given to the Red Cross, Gail Ferguson and Seventh Regiment funds.

On Thursday, Berry telegraphed that the trains might be late, and therefore Capt. Baker and Maj. Dockweiler went up to Saugus to meet the trains. They consulted there with Col. Berry, who again said that the programme should be carried out in detail. He even asked for two more cars on each special train to carry the men from the Arcade to the park, and the Southern Pacific granted his request and made all arrangements to satisfy him.

Again at River Station Col. Berry declared that the drill should be given at the park if it took until midnight. The troops started from River Station with the understanding that they were to march to the Arcade depot and board the trains awaiting them there.

the same as if the regiment had appeared at the park.

THE JOURNEY HOME.
Farewell Luncheon Served by San Francisco Red Cross.

To move a regiment from San Francisco to Los Angeles is a good deal of an undertaking, but twenty-four hours' preparation sufficed.

Wednesday morning the lines at the Presidio were closed to all members of the regiment until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and a provost guard was sent to town to "round up" all stragglers in order to have everyone present to pack his personal effects for shipment. After the completion of the task, lines were thrown open until 1 a.m. Many remained out all night. Those who came in before reveille were not challenged, as all prisoners in confinement had been released and no new ones were desired.

the different companies. He instructed them to return to the Armory on November 12 to be mustered out of the service.

Col. Berry used the same language to every company. In part he said: "I do not know that it is necessary for me to address you men in this manner, for what I am about to say cannot be given to you through the newspapers, for the greater part of what the press has accused me of saying is absolutely false, and what I did say was exaggerated and misquoted. To you I have looked for strength and support. We leave the service more honorably than the one who gains the inspiration which attends an engagement, for we are those who have trudged along without the inspiration, but eager to respond, but while no call came our duty was performed with a grace which becomes a true hero. I have always had the utmost confidence in you and respect for you, and as you depart for your homes my parting wish

WHO WOULDN'T BE A SOLDIER?

First call sounded at 4:45 a.m., amid the cheer of 1200 joyful soldiers. Effects were soon arranged, and after leaving all tent equipage for the occupation of other troops, the command moved to the city, where they at 9 o'clock entered upon the longed-for journey home. Out of courtesy to the regiment, troops were paraded along the line of march, to greet the men with cheers.

Those of the Seventh who felt unable to stand the eight-mile march to the ferry, availed themselves of street cars, consequently no cases of exhaustion were reported. Very little demonstration was made during the march. Many women flocked to the foot of Market street, and went to the Oakland mole to say farewell to the boys. It is known that upon the expiration of the furloughs, some of the men will return to the city of fog to realize their anticipations.

Upon reaching the ferry the boys enjoyed a lunch served by the ladies of the Red Cross. Toward evening, corner beef (famously known as "mule") and bread were issued for supper, and about 9 p.m. coffee was served. Part of the comfort was enjoyed upholstered seats, which proved comfortable couches, while others were assigned to tourist sleepers, with seats not notably soft. The convalescents, officers and "non-com." staff enjoyed the luxuries of well-appointed Pullmans.

One seat was allowed each man, giving ample space for his equipments, and a very comfortable night was spent. Mojave was reached at 8 o'clock yesterday. There an abundance of black coffee was served. The regular traveling ration was also served.

A Parting Word to His Enlisted Men.

Col. John R. Berry in person spoke the words which furloughed his men.

is that God in heaven may bless and keep you all."

Upon the conclusion of each address cheers for Col. Berry and the company officers were given. In Capt. Langworthy's company Corp. Clark Pomeroy arose and on behalf of the men of Co. C stated that when he called upon Senator Perkins, with their representatives from the regiment, the Senator told him that Col. Berry had led him to believe that 90 per cent. of the command preferred going to Manila to being mustered out. Col. Berry's reply to Pomeroy's remarks was that when he said that he was not aware of the sudden change of sentiment, for some six weeks had elapsed since the event. The incident caused a ripple of excitement, for it is a breach of military etiquette for an enlisted man to question his commanding officer, but the corporal had support, for when the cheer was given, many refused and others hissed.

"FADING OF THE REGIMENT."

Through surging crowds, 'mid cheer of cheers,
'Mid joy and smiles and happy tears,
'Mid music's thrill and trumpet call,
Where sweethearts scattered flowers for all,
There marched the gallant regiment.

With heads erect and faces brown,
The Nation's helmet for a crown;
With gun-and knapsack girded high,
Ready for honor's cause to die,
There marched the rugged regiment.

They started forth, a nation's shield,
For duty on the battlefield.
Today they're given full release,
Because the Nation's now at peace.
Thrice welcome, passing regiment!

the more reason why it should be right in the final proposition, when it was a question of tents and hardback. The volunteers evidently looked at it that way, and they greeted the first sight of Los Angeles with a delight that was without qualification.

It was a pleasing sight that the soldiers saw. River Station was ablaze with flags, and the pavilion of pepper and palm leaves that stretched along the east side of the building gave promises of bodily refreshment. In a hollow square about the

they had enjoyed for a long time. The space was so limited that there was considerable confusion in seating the men, but every soldier had his turn at a place especially prepared for him, and there was no "second table." Officers and men fared alike, the officers eating in a room which was also occupied by enlisted men.

The tables presented an exceedingly tempting appearance—before the army descended upon them. They were loaded down with meats, salads, sandwiches, bread, cakes, pickles, cheese, fruit and

HEALING BY MAGNETIC POWER.

AUGUST KOWALESKY INVOLVED IN A TANGLE OF TROUBLE.

Will of E. R. Coffman, the Rivera Walnut-grower—Renewal of the Workman Mortgage—Brown Divorce Granted.

The Board of Public Works at its meeting yesterday considered the petition of W. C. Furrey, a property owner on West Seventh street. His prayer was that the storm water pipe on his premises be carried on to someone else's premises at any rate, taken from his own. The board agreed to this providing, however, Mr. Furrey would stand half of the cost of the work, which is estimated to be $400. Mr. Furrey would not consent to the proposition, but the board concluded that as the water pipe was a nuisance to the petitioner it would be so to others, so it was recommended that the Council instruct the Superintendent of Streets to cut off the water on Mr. Furrey's property.

The City Engineer has completed the plans and specifications for the proposed improvements on Boyle avenue, from Fifth street to Stephenson street. The estimated cost is between $6500 and $7000, of which the city will pay about $1100 by reason of its owning the frontage along Hollenbeck Park, where there is a fill of forty feet that will have to be extended to sixty feet, besides necessitating the lengthening of the drain leading to the lake in proportion. The Council will probably order the City Clerk to advertise for bids for the work at the regular meeting next Monday when the City Engineer's plans will be submitted for approval.

The Auditor yesterday checked the financial report of the various city officials and found them in compliance with the money turned in to the City Treasurer, a total of more than $30,000. The inquiry was made of the various day into the merits of a suit brought by O. K. Fullam against Mrs. C. Lyman, the widow leader of the Harmonical Society of Spiritualists, who had considerable amusement to the public gathered in the Township Court. The lady desired to offset several monetary advances by a claim for certain alleged magnetic and mental treatments, by which it was averred Mr. Fullam had been much benefited.

August Kowalsky has been crowded much experience into the past week. He was arrested for disturbing the peace of his son-in-law, who was evening of the same day was thrown from his wagon and badly bruised. He was served with a writ of habeas corpus, and later limped into court and was tried on the charge upon which he was arrested on the first instance.

S. TORM-PIPE NUISANCE.

W. C. FURREY DIDN'T WANT STORM WATER ON HIS PROPERTY.

Asked to Have It Carried Onward. Will Probably Be Closed Altogether—Contemplated Improvements on Boyle Avenue to Cost About Seven Thousand Dollars.

The Board of Public Works at its meeting yesterday recommended that the Street Superintendent be instructed to shut off the storm water which flows across the property of W. C. Furrey on West Seventh street. Mr. Furrey petitioned the Council some weeks ago to make provision to have the water carried beyond his premises, as he feared that harm might result to his property during the rainy season if relief of this nature were not given him.

The board has made the matter under advisement at several meetings, and yesterday they proposed to Furrey that they, or rather, the city, would stand half the cost of continuing the water if he would stand the other half. The cost it was suggested, would be $100, and when Furrey heard this he spurned the proposition.

Upon second thought, the board concluded that the pipe which conducts the water to Furrey's premises leads from private property, and if continued would merely move the nuisance in the place to another locality, so they decided to recommend to the Council that it order the pipe closed.

The petition of James H. Blanchard was granted, and the City Engineer was instructed to define the north line of Second street, between Figueroa street and Fremont avenue, in accordance with the petition.

The petition of C. L. Batchelder and others, asking that a crosswalk be constructed across Los Angeles street on the north side of Twelfth street, was referred to the Superintendent of Streets.

The board recommended that the petition of R. J. Anderson on record to the City Engineer, with instructions to prepare an ordinance of intention for the graveling of Hunter street, between Mateo street and Santa Fe avenue, in accordance with the petition.

In the matter of the petition of W. J. Patterson and others, asking that Rowland street, from Magnolia avenue to Pacific avenue, be graded, graveled, sidewalked and sewerd, under the bond act, it is recommended that the same be referred to the City Engineer for investigation.

It was recommended that the petition of O'Brien and others be referred to the City Engineer, with instructions that he furnish data for opening an alley in the rear of block 2, Buena Vista tract, extending from lot 1 to lot 19, inclusive, the alley to run through city property, and that the City Attorney be instructed to present an ordinance providing for the dedication of the land for alley purposes.

BOYLE-AVENUE IMPROVEMENTS.

To Cost Property-owners and City About Seven Thousand Dollars.

So soon as the Council approves the plans drawn under the direction of George King of the City Engineer's office, work will be commenced on the for-some-time-contemplated improvement of Boyle avenue and Hollenbeck Park. The property owners along this avenue, from Fifth street to Stephenson street, petitioned the Council some months ago to have the street graveled, curbed and guttered, and after a delay of some days the matter was given into the hands of the City Engineer for his estimate of the cost of the work and the plan of it. Now that this is disposed of the Council will probably order the work to be proceeded with, and bids have been advertised for and the successful bidder announced.

The work on the whole will cost between $6500 and $7000. Of this sum the city will have to pay about $1100, in consequence of its owning the frontage along Hollenbeck Park. It was found necessary to change the grade of Boyle avenue, and to widen the fill along the property aligning the park. The fill is now only forty feet wide, but to complete the rest of the work it will be widened ten feet on either side. The plans and specifications of the City Engineer in this work are very complete and also pretty to look at. The draughts are very colored, and the tints and hues cause it to resemble the map of a country rather than the plans of an engineer.

Receipts for September.

City Auditor Nichols has checked receipts for September of the various officials and found them in compliance with the money turned in to the City Treasurer, a total of more than $30,000. The inquiry was made of the various day into the merits of a suit brought by O. K. Fullam against Mrs. C. The lady desired to offset several monetary advances by a claim for certain alleged magnetic and mental treatments, by which it was averred Mr. Fullam had been much benefited.

THE FEEBLE PREYING UPON THE STRENGTH OF STRONGER FOLK.

Mrs. C. Lyman, Late Pastor of the Harmonical Spiritualists, Fails to Establish Her Claim for Magnetic and Mental Healing.

Some of the modes and methods adopted and followed by "magnetic and mental healers" were subjected to judicial investigation yesterday, in the suit brought by O. K. Fullam against Mrs. C. Lyman to recover $300.

The plaintiff was quite an elderly man, "bearded like a pard," and stooped and pallid from ill health. The defendant, on the other hand, was rosy of complexion, and the very picture of health and strength. It was made to appear that Mrs. Lyman was brought from Chicago by the Harmonical Society of Spiritualists, and of-ficiated as "pastor" for five months, or until last June. Her salary was not paid, however, when the present suit was begun this outstanding balance was garbled—rather an attempt was made to garnish it, for it developed that it had been assigned previously, judging from the date on the instrument, to Dr. von Kanel. The doctor appeared in court to champion the cause of Mrs. Lyman, and assisted Attorney Gottschalk in defending the case. He is afflicted with such an inordinate growth of hair that he resembles a porcupine, and he was the cynosure of all eyes, and appeared to be rather proud of the fact.

The plaintiff made a very simple statement of alleged facts regarding money advanced to the defendant, and then Mrs. Lyman was put upon the witness stand to controvert what he had said. With a volubility that took away the breath of her counsel she told of the spirit forces with which she is endowed, and which she said she turned upon her patients at a ruling rate of $1 per hour.

"I have magnetic and healing power," she began, "and Mr. Fullam just ran after me for my magnetic force."

"You have magnetic force, then?" dubiously interpolated her counsel.

"Yes, sir; I have," the witness responded; "I can help him and give him strength, and did it, too, and gave him strength every day for six months. One dollar an hour is what I receive for my treatments, and I gave him about five hours a day, sometimes more, and he is now a strong man, and if I did get money from him he always said, when any allusion was made to it, never to mind and that it was all his. Now, then, if he wants his money back I want my pay."

Having justified herself thus far, Mrs. Lyman sat back in her chair and looked satisfied.

"How long would the plaintiff stay upon when he made his daily visits upon you?" inquired Mr. Gottschalk.

"He'd stay all the afternoon, and sometimes all the evening, until I would have to tell him that I couldn't stand the drain upon my system any longer."

Attorney Griffith took the witness, and as he has some knowledge of spiritism, other than the bottled variety, he made Mrs. Lyman appear very uncomfortable, her examination ending in a three-cornered verbal scrap, in which she and the two attorneys took part, and upon which Mrs. Lyman smiled a benediction as he rose to his feet. Mr. Griffith is secretary of the Spiritual Society that, it is alleged, is behind the suit. Mrs. Lyman has been salaried during her pastoral term of five months, and so he questioned with full knowledge of the inside facts with anyone in this city," he inquired.

"Not here," Mrs. Lyman testily admitted, adding more cheerfully, "but in Chicago and the East I have treated very many."

"Who have you ever told in this city that you were a magnetic healer?"

"Oh, I've told a number, and I had my cards printed."

Names of persons to whom the precious information had been imparted were not forthcoming, and so Mr. Griffith proceeded to show from Mrs. Lyman's own words that after the Harmonical Society brought her from Chicago she was so engaged in daily duty in connection with her duties to the society that she could have had little time to plausibly arouse living mental or magnetic stimulus to the enfeebled plaintiff.

"Was it not a fact," asked Mr. Griffith solemnly, "that Mr. Fullam, who is your apartments for the purpose of taking you to your meals?"

"Yes, he did take me to my meals, that's a fact," Mrs. Lyman said.

"But he did pay for your meals?"

"Oh, yes, he did," Mrs. Lyman said, "and he paid me for my services."

Mr. Griffith became very angry when the shortcomings of the society of which he is secretary were thus stated, and he wanted to show the court that the society owed its whilom pastor just $60.00—he was particularly certain about the odd 50 cents. Opposing counsel did not care a whoop for the society, and said so, and when the present case was illuminated with sixty-three revenue stamps, having a value of $37, and an accompanying note for $75.00 bore $15 worth of stamps.

Past Grand Chief Ranger A. Ordila, who removed from Los Angeles to Arizona some months ago, is doing good work for the order organizing new courts. His latest was a new court at Prescott last week, with fifty-seven charter members. He expects to organize three more courts before November.

There will be a large turnout of the members of the local courts at the funeral of Judge J. A. Ryan Sunday, and initiation two.

Woodmen of the World.

GENERAL ORGANIZER W. L. Temple has been very materially increasing the membership of Chapparral Camp at Santa Barbara, thirty-five applications having been put in last week. He has also received two from the Riverside camp at San Diego, Riverside Camp and in all of which places public meetings have been arranged, and will be addressed by him. He visited the Downey camp last Tuesday and assisted in the initiatory work. He will deliver an address at Downey next Tuesday evening, and remain a few days to assist in organizing work for that camp.

The drill team of La Fiesta Camp, No. 63, will exemplify the work for Fremont Camp next Wednesday evening.

The Fraternal Brotherhood.

HERMOSA LODGE, No. 32, which won the cup of regalia given by the Supreme Lodge for the largest percentage of increase in membership, was presented with the aforementioned of regalia Monday evening. A social session followed the presentation. Supreme Secretary G. S. Bartholomew has returned from his trip to Arizona and New Mexico, where he instituted a number of good lodges. For the next few weeks, he will confine his attention to soliciting members for the city lodges.

J. E. Graham, D.S.P., is at Ventura working in the interest of the lodge in that city.

P. T. Jesson, D.S.P., who was doing organizing work at Corona, was summoned home this week by the illness of his wife.

A new lodge will be instituted in Oakland next Tuesday evening by H. Nelson, D.S.P., of San Francisco.

W. J. Williams of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 1, has been appointed Deputy Supreme President for the purpose of organizing work in the city.

The watermelon social given by the ladies of Washington Lodge, No. 51, last week was a successful affair, and a programme was rendered comprising instrumental selections by Miss D. Vorwerk and Clara Duerfing, vocal solos, Pauline Nicoli, and Miss Eva Dodge; monologue, Miss Ethel Averill; reading, B. H. Franklin; reading, Ella Lang; vocal trio, Misses C. L. Wilde, Dora Fink, Mina Beebe. The watermelon race was won by Charles Parker, after which the watermelons and fruit were auctioned off.

Royal Arcanum.

IT IS thought that the membership of the order in the State will soon assume large enough proportions for the organization of a Grand Council, when Supreme Warden will visit the State and perfect the organization.

Gov. F. A. Briggs, whose death occurred recently, was a member of the order. He also transmits that to the list of prominent officers in the late war with Spain, who were members of the order, should be added the names of Capt. Clark of the Oregon and Rear Admiral Miller and Capt. Glass of the Charleston. The 40,000 members in New York recently sent a congratulatory telegram to Commander Schley.

MOVEMENTS OF RAILROAD MEN.

FRED PARKER'S Promotion—Movement of Walnuts and Oranges.

The heads of departments in the Santa Fé offices are all at their desks expecting Edward Chambers, freight agent, who is at Albuquerque. This is an event not often hit on to find nearly all of them at home.

Godfrey Holteroff, the treasurer, returned yesterday from a vacation spent in shooting in Lower California. G. W. Nevin, the general manager, and J. J. Byre, general passenger agent, returned yesterday from a tour of inspection to San Diego, and over the Temecula branch.

The new wharf at San Diego is progressing well, and will be ready for the first steamer of the California and Oriental line, which will be there in about two months.

The master mechanics of the Santa Fé are holding a council in Los Angeles these days and swapping ideas. There are G. H. Stirling, chief engineer of mechanics at Albuquerque; T. F. Underwood, division master mechanic at Winslow; W. S. Hancock, who holds a similar place at Needles; and C. F. Tape, superintendent of machinery at San Bernardino, in the council.

There will take place in a few days quite a shaking-up in the office of Edward Chambers, general freight agent of the Santa Fé, and nearly all the boys in the Broadway building are in a state of mild excitement over visions of possible promotion.

F. K. Parker, Mr. Chambers' chief clerk, and one of the hardest workers and most popular men in the employ of the company, has now a well-deserved promotion to the responsible position of auditor of the Gulf Colorado and Santa Fé branch of the big system, with headquarters at Denver. The road is 110 miles long and is an important branch.

Mr. Parker entered the services of the Santa Fé thirteen years ago, as clerk in the office of the auditor at National City. He was later promoted traveling auditor, and so won promotion after promotion to his new position.

H. A. Vanter, president of the Santa Monica Motor Company, yesterday bought tickets for Honolulu, to sail on the Australia, which leaves San Francisco on October 22. She was booked for the 19th, but is delayed three days.

The Santa Fé yesterday took out a carload of new crop walnuts, the fourth of the season. The car came over from Salco, Ventura county.

Five to eight cars of lemons and oranges a day still go out of Southern California.

SAVED SOLDIERS!

Who Used Paine's Celery Compound Did Not Suffer from Fever.

The soldiers who did the most good were those who kept well. There were plenty of brave men who were of little use when the time came because they took less care of their health than they did of their musket.

Malaria and other fevers seen picked out these men much more unerringly than the enemy's sharpshooters.

One set of men went about keeping well in a businesslike way. They took Paine's Celery Compound at the first indication of intestinal troubles, weakness, or when fatigued and liable to fevers. They used Paine's Celery Compound to purify their blood and put their health on a firm basis as soon as they made up their minds to join the service.

Corporal Beckwith thinks there was a great deal of needless sickness among the volunteers. At Chickamauga many of his mess mates followed his example and fortified themselves against disease by Paine's Celery Compound, and not a man of them had malaria or fever of any sort or spent a day in the hospital.

Corporal Beckwith writes: CAMP OLYMPIA, Sept. 17, 1898.

Dear Sir: When I see so many of my comrades coming home looking fit only for a hospital cot, I give thanks to Paine's Celery Compound for the fact that I went through my enlistment without any doctor's medicine, and am today even healthier than when I went to Chickamauga. I firmly believe that this good health is due to my using Paine's Celery Compound last winter and spring, which made my blood pure and nerves at once to resist malaria and keep me well. Very truly yours,

CORPORAL JAMES O. BECKWITH, Co. M, First Vt. Volunteer Infantry.

Secretary of War Stanton used to say that the best definition of rest is a change of occupation. That may be true for one in health, but a sick person needs to have his digestion regulated, his blood purified and his nerves invigorated. Paine's Celery Compound brings the rest of rest the sick body requires through sleep and nourishment.

Just as the great lawyer studies each one of his cases till he knows it on every side and in every possible aspect, so Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College, the discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound, had studied the nerves in health and disease, when well nourished and when under-nourished, in men and women and children years before he looked for the remedy. Paine's Celery Compound was the outcome of his entire professional life. A fitting memorial to a life of hard study and close observation—a remedy that the world could not lose today, at any price.

Paine's Celery Compound cures and equalizes all the nervous tissues and induces the body to take on solid flesh. It purifies the blood, as is so clearly shown by the rapid clearing of the skin of all evidences of bad humors within. It is an infallible relief for salt rheum, eczema and blood diseases.

Died of Apoplexy.

Amos W. Hill, about 65 years of age died of apoplexy in the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning. Officer Ziegler found him lying unconscious in an alley off Second street, between Los Angeles and San Pedro streets, about 9 o'clock Thursday evening. The officer at first thought he was simply drunk, on being sent to the Police Station it was discovered that something more serious ailed the unfortunate. Police Surgeon Hagan pronounced it a case of apoplexy. The patient never rallied from his comatose condition, and died at 8:50 o'clock in the morning.

Hill was native of Massachusetts, and had been in Los Angeles for the past eight years. The remains were taken to Orr & Hines, where an inquest will be held this morning.

The Ebell.

The literature section of the Ebell met yesterday afternoon. Mrs. George Drake Ruddy presided. The first half hour was devoted to current literature. The work of Edward D. McQueen Grey, author of the "Alamo," who recently came to Los Angeles, was discussed, also Canon Doyle's latest works.

Following the discussions the entire afternoon was devoted to Ralph Waldo Emerson. A biographical sketch of his life was read by Mrs. C. C. Gibbon. Miss Frye read a paper entitled "Emerson, as a Lecturer, Poet and Philosopher." The closing paper for the afternoon was read by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin, which was a review of "Representative Men."

This is the second lot of Ripans Tablets I have sent for, and I have bought quite a few boxes from our near-by druggist, and almost all of them I have given to friends, knowing that the Tablets are a sure cure for that full feeling or indigestion. I gave a few boxes to a friend a week or so ago who I know suffered very much from indigestion, and this lot of Ripans Tablets is for him. He feels that he could not get along without the Tablets since trying them. I tell every one that Ripans Tablets are almost indispensable around a house.

This will be the last day of the races for this season. It had been intended to continue the meeting for six days more but the patronage during the last ten days has been generally so poor, and there are so few horses now at the track that it has been decided to close the meeting today. The programme for today will be one of the most attractive of any day at the meeting.

The mile handicap this afternoon will bring together the best horses on the track, and a splendid race can confidently be expected. It is not often that such horses as Grady, Lo Goleta, San Vero, Shasta Water, Rubicon and Marplot meet in this city. The handicap has been adjusted to a nice and every starter will have some support.

The junior handicap will be contested by the pick of the 2-year-olds, and the question as to which is the best youngster at the meeting will be definitely settled.

The mixed pacing and trotting race is the drawing magnet for the advance of light harness racing. The entries for today follow:

First race, mixed pacing and trotting, purse $800. Monterey, Joe Wheeler, Little Thom, Rex Alto and Much Better.

Second race, special pace: Sam H., Lady Margaret, Riverside, Wood and George R.

Third race, junior handicap, five and one-half furlongs: Headwater, (118); Obsidian, (115); Midlove, (115); San Augustine, (113); Ojal, (108); Ocorona, (107); Corbett, (105); Capitan, (105); Reina de Cuba, (100); Sir Urian, (100); Fourth race, running, main street and Agricultural Park Railroad handicap, one mile: Ojal, (117); Rubicon, (114); La Goleta, (111); Marplot, (107); San Vero, (104); Shasta Water, (100).

Fifth race, running, selling, three-fourths of a mile: Reina de Los Angeles, (105); Lady Ashley, (105); Kaiser Ludwig, (107); Promito, (105); Elsie Smith, (105); Lossett, (105); Petrich, (105); Meservore, (105); Fig Leaf, (105); Tom Smith, (105).

Despite the announcement that the Seventh Regiment would give either a drill or a review at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, the attendance there was disappointing. It had been expected that the reception of the soldiers there would bring out an attendance which would make yesterday the busiest day of the season, but instead there were but a few hundreds of people present more than there were on some of the poorest days.

When the afternoon's sport opened with a small crowd it was supposed that most of the people would be at the track after the parade in the city, but when they did not come and only an average crowd arrived, the officers of the association began to make inquiries as to the reason for the small attendance. At first it was attributed to the delay in the arrival of the trains bearing the soldiers. The announcement had been made that the troops would be at the park at 12:30 o'clock, but when early yesterday morning it became known that they would not reach the city much before that time, the officers decided the drill was postponed until 3:30 o'clock and preparations were made to receive the soldiers at that hour. The association, however, before dark, and the regular programme was rushed through, it being expected that the drill would consume at least an hour. Had the regiment come, there would have been ample time for their drill and for finishing the day's programme before dark, and this is what the officers of the association desired.

Heat after heat and race after race was run and still there were no signs of the regiment. It had been announced early in the afternoon that the regiment had arrived at River Station and that it would certainly arrive at the track during the afternoon. The telephone wires were kept hot with messages of inquiry as to the movements of the troops, and soon after the second heat in the first race a message was received that the column was moving and that the Arcade Depot would be reached within half an hour. This was taken to indicate that the troops would arrive at the park within an hour. It never entered the heads of the officials at the park that Col. Berry would break his promise to them or that there was a possibility of a failure to have a drill there. An hour passed and still no troops arrived and a telephone message was sent up town to learn the reason. The reply was surprising and disappointing. It was simply that inasmuch as the members of the regiment were greatly fatigued by their ride, it had been decided to take them to the Armory instead of to the park, and therefore there would be no drill at the track.

It was after 3 o'clock when this message was received. Hundreds of people had been waiting for hours for the arrival of the troops and they were growing impatient. They had little interest in the races and wanted to know what caused the delay. As soon as the message announcing the change in programme was received, the announcement was made to the crowd by Secretary Thorne. He expressed the great regret of the officers of the association that the drill would not take place and at that time he was unable to state why the troops had not appeared. The announcement caused many to leave the grounds, and after that there was but a half-hearted interest in the races.

The association officers were not satisfied with the matter and they proceeded to ascertain the reason for the failure of the regiment to appear. An hour later the truth was announced by Secretary Thorne. He said: "I have just learned why the Seventh Regiment has failed to appear here today. When the announcement was made that they would appear it was in good faith and was based upon the statement of Col. Berry. He agreed that the regiment should come here and drill and promised positively before we announced the matter that such a programme would be followed. Even this morning when he was met at San Fernando by members of Gen. Lasta staff he assured them that he would have the drill at the park. When the regiment arrived at River Station he repeated this promise and the column moved toward the Arcade depot enroute to the park. When it reached Fifth street regardless of his promises, Col. Berry ordered the regiment to proceed to the Armory and his order was, of course, obeyed. We now know what has been the hoo-doo of the Seventh Regiment. It has been its Colonel."

Disappointing as was this announcement to the crowd, the closing statement made by Mrs. Thorne as to the hoo-doo was received with cheers. The races then proceeded, but there was a decided lack of enthusiasm among the spectators. They had come to the park to see military evolutions by a body of trained soldiers, and mere racing hardly satisfied them, and had the betting been twice as good they would not have made up for the disappointment.

MORE SHARP PRACTICE. Ordinarily the action of the judges on Thursday in punishing two riders on alleged crooked work would have had the effect of preventing a repetition of attempts at such work for at least a day or two, but yesterday it was again found to be necessary to take decisive action to prevent the success of a fraud which would have well filled the pockets of a few of the disreputable and the book-makers. The first heat in the first race of the day was productive of a scandal equal to any of the several others which have been brought to light since the meeting began. In the betting on this heat Our Jack opened at 8 to 1, some of the book-layers as much as 10 against him. J. Sullivan drove this horse, and until the race was trotted there was no suspicion that anything was wrong. The being bad, of course, been reported to the judges and the race was watched as all other events usually are. Thompson was the favorite and he got away well in the lead and led into the stretch by nearly or quite twenty lengths. C. F. Bunch was driving Thompson and had he wished he would have won the heat with ridiculous ease. After passing the three-quarter pole with a lead of twenty lengths, he pulled his horse clear over to the outside of the track, and in the opinion of the judges pulled up deliberately until Our Jack, who was second at that point, came up and then the latter won with ease. In the opinion of the judges the work of Bunch was a part of a prearranged plan to throw the heat, and they promptly took action on the matter. All bets were declared off, the heat was declared to be no heat, and Bunch was fined $100. He made a kick against the decision, and the next time he passed the judges stand he lifted his hat to them.

THE SPECIAL TROT. The action of the judges with reference to the first heat of the first race of the day, of course, caused the race to be begun again. Thompson was 4 to 5 favorite; Osito and Silver Ring commanded even money; Our Jack was 4 to 1, and Mammie Riley was 15 to 1. It was an easy win for Thompson. Bunch letting the horse have his head in such a manner that he was always in front and won by a length almost in a jog.

In the second heat Osito, for some reason, was made the favorite at 1 to 2. Thompson stood 6 to 5, while the money for Thompson, who landed first by a length from Osito, with Our Jack third.

The final heat of the race was also won by Thompson, who ran 2 to 1 against Osito's 1 to 2. The latter again finished second and Silver Ring third.

DIRECT HEIR'S WALKOVER. The second event of the day was the Semi-Trotting stake for foals of 1898. This race had been arranged for some time, and the ran more than two years ago, and there were originally twenty-one entries, but only one of them remained to start, and that was Direct Heir. The race was therefore a walkover for him, and he was not pushed in the least in making the distance, the time being 2:53 3/4.

A FAVORITE BEATEN. The third race was a dash of four and one-half furlongs for maiden two-year-olds, in which Inola was a prohibitive favorite at 1 to 3. Peter Weber would have paid 7 to 1, and Miss Mattie 30 to 1. The odds against Ellen Wood were 5 to 1. The race was an excellent contest between all the entries, except Miss Mattie, who was not in it.

In the stretch Peter Weber led by more than a length, and would have won but for a bobble which was made almost under the wire. Ellen Wood was second, and either Devin or Weber pulled his mount over or the animal swerved so as to foul Ellen Wood. Whether the foul was deliberate or not cannot be said, but it was the judges, but it prevented Ellen Wood from winning, and the judges disallowed Weber. Ellen Wood therefore took first place, Inola second and Miss Mattie third.

THE SPECIAL RUN. A special running race for a purse of $125 over five and one-half furlongs was the fourth event of the afternoon. Miss Daly was the favorite in the betting at 3 to 1. The others paid 5 to 1, and Whistle Bird was second choice, at 3 to 1. The others paid all the way from 9 to 15 to 1. Miss Daly got the benefit of the start and held that advantage throughout, as she was never headed and won from Whistle Bird by half a length. Palomares was third a length behind Whistle Bird.

AMASA BEATS RUBICON. In the fifth race, a selling event, over five furlongs, Rubicon was favorite at 3 to 5. Moringa was well liked at 2 to 1, and Amasa was third choice at 5 to 1. Road Warner, who has started in a number of races during the meeting, was posted at 20 to 1, and as the performance of this horse has been quite good, he caught lots of money at these figures. Ojal would have paid 60 to 1 had his tickets been winning ones. The start was excellent with the exception of Moringa, who was almost left at the post. The others kept well bunched throughout the race, and up to the three-quarter pole it was almost anybody's race. In the stretch it was a fight between Rubicon and Amasa, with the advantage in favor of the latter. Amasa won by half a length from Rubicon, with Road Warner third. In spite of the bad start Moringa beat out Ojal, who appeared to be outclassed.

THE LAST RACE. The final event of the day was a run over six and one-half furlongs by five starters, of whom Masero and Kaiser Ludwig were the favorites well liked in the betting, both being placed at 6 to 5. Pat Murphy was 8 to 5 at the opening, and soon dropped to 2 to 1. Artesia remained at 15 to 1, and Viking at 50 to 1. Viking was left at the post, but the others got off in a bunch, with Kaiser Ludwig leading. Masero and Pat Murphy were close behind, and at the half Masero had moved up to first place, with Murphy following. Artesia and Viking were out of the race from the first quarter, and the fight was between the leaders. Masero led into the stretch by so great a distance that the others contested only for place. Masero won by a length, and Murphy beat out Ludwig by a head.

Severing Caves In. Laborers digging the trench for the new Broadway sewer had trouble with caving earth yesterday. In the afternoon Jean Martinez got caught in a fall of gravel at Fifth street and was badly pinched before he was rescued. His elbows were wrenched and bruised, but his injuries are not serious. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

A Woman's Work.

For thirteen years this woman suffered from a helpless infirmity which baffled skillful medical treatment. She was restored to health in a remarkable manner, and is now helpful to other sufferers.

For thirteen years Mrs. George L. Rogers, of West Main Street, Canton, N. Y., suffered from the indescribable tortures of inflammatory rheumatism.

Only persons who have been afflicted with this disease know what such suffering is.

Those who have never felt the pangs of this ailment have not the remotest idea of its tortures.

For years this was an obstinate disease to cure. In recent years, however, there has been formulated a remedy which successfully cures with it.

The many cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People attest to that fact. One of the striking examples is Mrs. Rogers' experience.

In speaking of it to a reporter she said: "Thirteen years ago I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism and a complication of diseases."

"I cannot begin to describe my sufferings during that time."

"You can judge somewhat of what I endured, when you look at these hands. They were distorted, twisted and swollen."

"My foot, too, is so much out of shape that the big toe lays across the others, the toes touching the floor."

"Notwithstanding I am sixty-five years old, have a pleasant home and other comforts, life to me was far from enjoyable, for all other things pale into insignificance when you are without good health."

"I tried different doctors and many proprietary remedies, but no permanent benefit was obtained."

"Last March I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

"Before I had finished the first box I began to feel that they were doing me good."

"I continued using them and steadily grew better."

"I have used thirteen boxes of the pills and to-day feel better than for the past fifteen years."

"My appetite is good; I feel bright, cheerful and have a desire to live and enjoy society."

"I have been a member of the Methodist church for many years, but for six years was unable to attend."

"Now I am able to attend the church services regularly and certainly appreciate that privilege."

"I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People a wonderful medicine and am confident no other remedy could have effected the wonderful cure they have in my case."

"I am glad to state this, hoping that some sufferer may profit by it and obtain relief."

It was nature's own remedy that accomplished this cure caused by impure blood, for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are composed of vegetable remedies that exert a powerful influence in purifying and enriching the blood. Many diseases long supposed by the medical profession to be incurable have succumbed to the potent influence of these pills. This universal remedy is sold by all druggists.

New Italian Minister to Peking Wants to See the Emperor.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

PEKING, Oct. 14.—(By Asiatic Cable.) The new Italian Minister, Sig. Martino has arrived here and demands the customary audience of the Emperor. Much interest is aroused in the part the Dowager Empress will take in the ceremony. The French Minister has strongly urged the immediate necessity of obtaining the release of the Frenchman who is now in the hands of rebels, and has threatened to use strong measures, which will include French troops crossing the frontier.

The Emperor is practically imprisoned in the island palace, which is strongly guarded. No boat is allowed to land there except with the consent of the Dowager Empress. All the decrees are now issued by the Dowager Empress, the last pretense of the Emperor's power having been abolished.

FORESTERS' RECEPTION.

The Finale of the High Court Session at Hazard's Pavilion.

The reception to the High Chief Ranger and the High Court officers of the Independent Order of Foresters at Hazard's Pavilion last evening had the effect of filling that edifice with members of the order, their families and friends, from many portions of the State, and was a fitting conclusion to one of the most successful sessions of the High Court ever held. A majority of the delegates to the High Court at Santa Barbara availed themselves of the opportunity afforded, not only to visit the city, but to attend the exercises.

The reception was arranged by the courts of the city, formed into a general executive committee, of which C. L. Wilde of Court Morris Vineyard was the chairman. A. H. S. Perkins of Court Angelina the secretary, and E. B. Johnson of Court Occident the treasurer.

At 7:30 the officers of the High Court were escorted to the pavilion by Los Angeles Encampment, No. 17, Royal Foresters, headed by the band of the Supreme Chief Ranger, in the full uniform of the order. Also occupying a prominent position on the stage was Dr. Acland Oronhyatekha, son of the Supreme Chief Ranger, in the full uniform of the Royal Foresters, while in the audience were a large number of the prominent delegates to the High Court from all parts of the State.

After a promenade concert by the Ransome-Maylin Orchestra, Hon. R. N. Bulla assumed charge as chairman of the evening. Mr. E. Hoover gave a reading of "The Bugle Song" from Tennyson, responding also to a hearty encore. The Amphion Male Quartette, composed of J. E. Sisson, W. L. Frew, G. V. Pink and T. C. Todd, in costume, rendered a legendary selection, and in the absence of Mrs. T. W. Young, Lee E. Bassett gave a reading of Eugene Hale's "Debating Society."

The entertainment concluded with a selection by the Amphion and Athenian quartettes, and a selection by the orchestra.

Many other diversions have been arranged for the delegates during their sojourn here, prominent among which will be the riding about the city today, while a number will visit Mt. Lowe and Alpine Tavern, and at 5 p.m. an excursion has been planned to Catalina, returning Sunday.

ANOTHER CITY TICKET.

Socialist Labor Party Names Its Candidates and Makes Demands.

The city convention of the Socialist Labor party was held last night at No. 206 1/2 South Main street. A platform, previously prepared, was adopted, in which the proposed new city charter was condemned, and a demand made that the city go into the wholesale business of supplying the leading commodities of trade and the necessities and conveniences of life at cost, and upon the cooperative plan. Incidentally, a demand was made for a charter embodying the principles of the initiative and referendum, and providing that the city obtain control and operate all business enterprises which now require a city franchise. The party also wants all school children clothed and furnished with school books at the expense of the general public. The establishment of a system of pensions for all sick, disabled or aged persons is also advocated.

The following ticket was nominated: Mayor, George Martin; City Clerk, Henry Hansen; City Assessor, James O'Leary; City Treasurer, William N. Slocum; City Engineer, Ernest S. Kincaid; City Tax and License Collector, George S. Holmes; City Auditor, Charles H. Jones; Street Superintendent, D. J. Millard.

The nominations for Councilmen in the several wards will be made at a meeting to be held Tuesday evening. The nominees for members of the Board of Education will be named at the same time.
